

Global warming

Maybe you are simply not mature enough to tell it like it is, because even that burden you leave to us children.

We become the bad guys who have to tell people these uncomfortable things, because no one else wants to, or dares to.

Greta Thunberg, to the French parliament