

Military spending

The US may account for half of global defence spending, but how much use is its military hardware in a software age?
US aircraft carriers, which can cost up to $13bn to build, can be easily sunk by one of China's DF-26 missiles, costing a few hundred thousand dollars.

John Thornhill,
Financial Times, April 2, 2020