

Newspapers

When a new dictator
takes over a country, one of the first things he does is seize or close the newspapers.

Apathy isn't as heavy-handed as a dictator.
But it can get the same job done.

Mike Royko,
Chicago News, March 4, 1978