

Republicans say

We're not going to get the Negro vote as a block in 1964 and 1968, so we ought to go hunting where the ducks are.

Barry Goldwater, 1964, kicking off the Republican Party's still-ascendant "southern strategy"